CoCounsel Drafting empowers legal professionals to:

Find a starting point

Find the best starting point in their own contract repositories or among Contract Express and Practical Law Standard Documents or Automated templates.

Draft and modify clauses

Use natural language queries to improve your clause wording and locate ideal terms, using CoCounsel paired with Practical Law content.

Review contracts

Maximize efficiency by comparing third-party contracts to playbooks to quickly spot missing clauses, pinpoint deviations, and automate redlining.

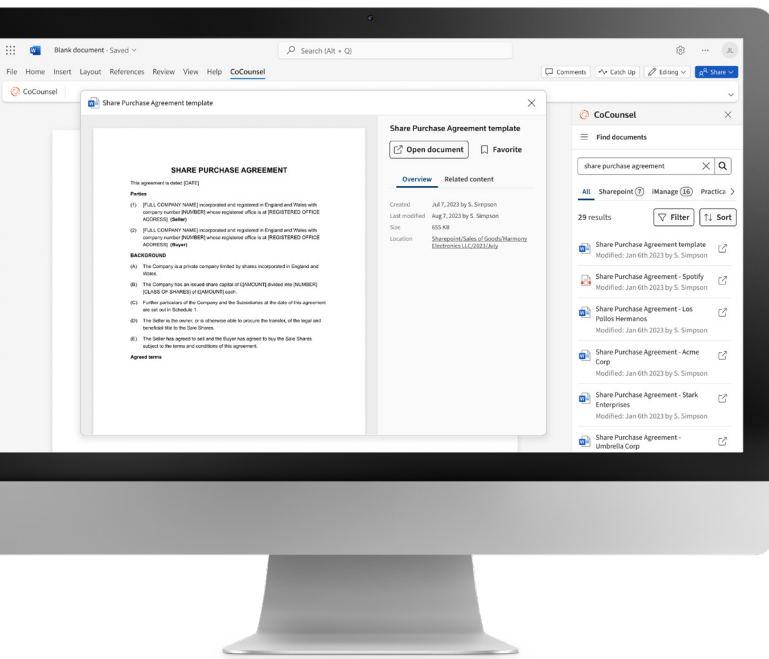

Finalize

Refine your documents to address common drafting errors to deliver documents for execution with confidence.

Increase productivity

Eliminate pains that come with everyday drafting, using secure, professional-grade generative AI trained on trusted content.

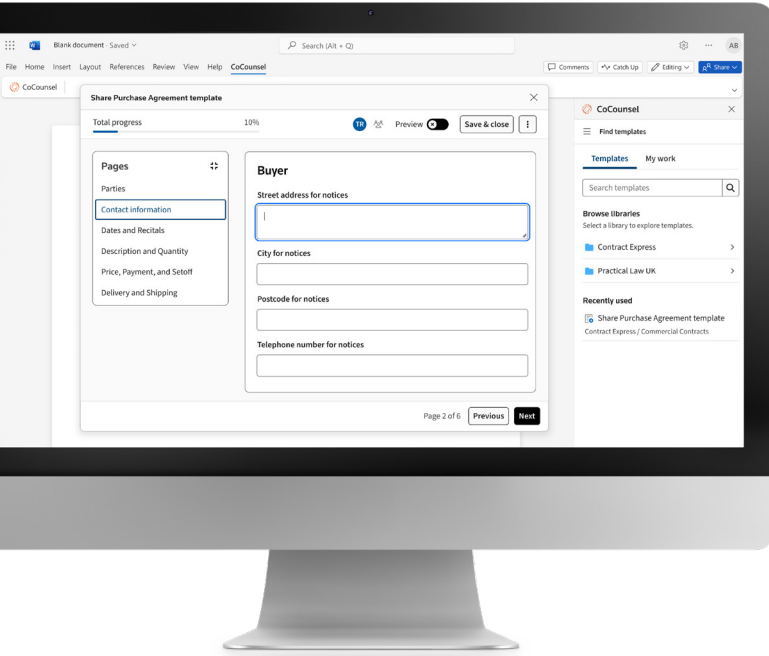

“Its seamless Microsoft Word integration means they [our lawyers] can begin using it with little training and begin realising ROI almost immediately.”

- Joshua R. Driskell, Managing Partner – Lagerlof LLP

Lawyers spend 40-60% of their time drafting legal documents and reviewing contracts.

Find a Starting Point

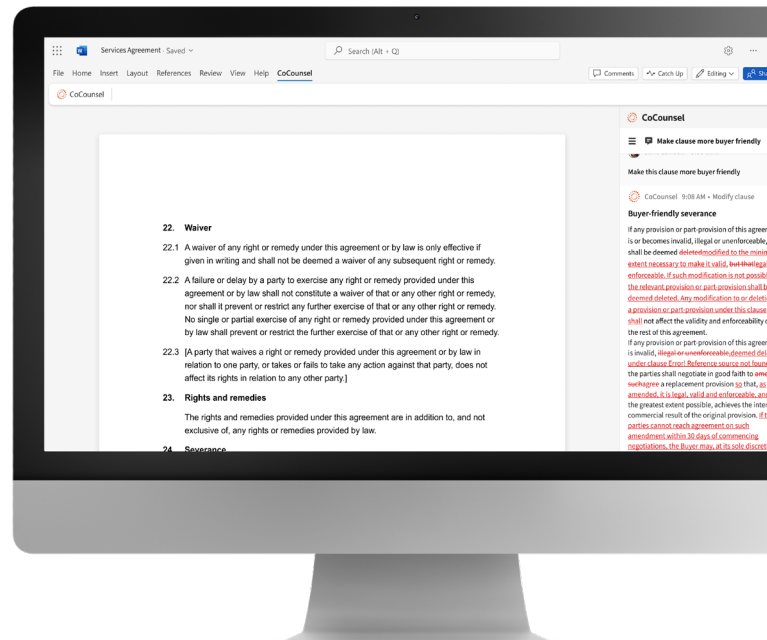

Now with CoCounsel, drafting is a simpler, more efficient process that increases productivity, streamlines drafting, and saves huge amounts of time – all without compromising quality. Bringing the professional-grade GenAI of CoCounsel to drafting helps solve the long-awaited challenges of drafting.

“There is substantial time savings when using CoCounsel Drafting. When we are operating on an average turnaround time of three to four business days for a response, we can cut that down to one to two business days by utilising the tool to get drafting work done.”

– J.J. Ball, Legal Counsel at Systemiq
