Why choose Thomson Reuters as your tax technology partner?

We deliver innovative, transformative and award-winning tax solutions to the EMEA region.

In a fast-evolving business environment, technology can help your organization adapt at pace, address opportunities and challenges as these arise, and prepare you for the future.

Many enterprises recognize the value of tax technology. The right solution can play a pivotal role in improving tax processes and helping professionals to be more accurate and efficient – especially at a time when so many tax functions are expected to do more with less.

As the demand for tax technology grows, the bar is being set higher than ever before. Thomson Reuters is therefore incredibly proud to have been named EMEA Tax Technology Firm of the Year for 2020 by industry platform, International Tax Review.

This award recognizes the part we play in helping to develop and transform business operations across Europe, the Middle East and Africa (EMEA).
